“The Mini”... Mighty & Meaningful! Pengo Technologies Launch Innovative Line of Petroleum Reduced, Earth Friendly and Cost Conscious DVD Storage Solutions

BALDWIN PARK, CA, August 9, 2006 – Discs and storage cases are made from oil derivative products. As oil hits $77 a barrel, conspicuous consumption rages in the DVD/CD industry.

Pengo Technologies (www.pengo.com), giants in blank recordable discs and storage solutions in North America, Mexico, Caribbean and Latin America. CEO Michael Huang brings his company and its environmental ethics to the United States with a hallmark package of petroleum based product line that uses less plastic to reduce waste.

“Everybody wins, the environment, the consumer and the retailer,” says Huang. “Most consumers never use more than 20% of their DVDs disc storage capacity – 80% remains empty, stored or tossed out,” says CEO Huang. “Our contribution is a smart, timely & economical storage and mini disc system that uses 55% less plastic. This is environmentally friendly manufacturing at its best,” says Huang.

The new MINI HAMBURGER is a smart compact storage solution that includes 10 scratch resistant premium grade mini discs and stores 14 GB’s of data. The cases are available in clear, magenta, neon green, purple and blue with a handy carrying strap. The portable mini is only 3 ½” in diameter x ¾” deep.

“Penalizing consumers who pay 5 - 6 times the cost of mini camcorder digital or data discs or a high retail cost of $15.00 to $20.00 for just 5 discs didn’t compute with Pengo Technologies’ vision” says Huang. “We’ve set a suggested retail price of only $5.99 for the MINI HAMBURGER case w/10 premium discs – 59 cents each vs. $3 to $4 dollars each.”

Pengo Technologies Incorporated, brand name includes blank discs, storage solutions and an array of media accessories. Advanced OEM opportunities support the needs of consumer electronic retailers and resellers.
